

Raiko Raalik (bass-bariton)(06.05.1993) studied singing at Heino Eller Music School with Taisto Noor and is currently studying at the Estonian Academy of Music and Theatre with Taavi Tampuu. Since 2015 sings in the Savonlinna Opera Festival Chorus and has also sang some minor roles during those years . He has attended the master classes of Eva Märtson, Jaakko Ryhänen, Gundula Hintz and Caroline Dowdle(ROH) and cooperates regularly with Estonian State Opera “Vanemuine”. In 2017 he won the 3rd place at the PLMF Vocal Contest and received the Special Prize of the Estonian National Opera. In the same year he sang the title role in Tamberg’s opera “Cyrano de Bergerac”, a co-production with the Estonian National Opera and the Estonian Academy of Music and Theatre. He is an “Estonian Young Singer of the Year(2017)” award winner and since the season 2017/18 he is a grantee of the Estonian National Opera.